RENO, Nev. (KOLO) - Local children are doing their part to recognize our veterans.

Fifth graders from Tahoe Expedition Academy adopted the Veterans Guest House. Tuesday morning the group took homemade meals cooked primarily by the students, with a little help from their parents.

Right now the students are learning about the Revolutionary War. Teacher Matt Morrisson is tying that curriculum into learning about service as a whole.

After dropping off their food items, the students then spent an hour making thank-you cards for veterans. They walked across the street to hand-deliver those sentiments to patients at the VA Hospital.

By the way, these students are creating a magazine which will be available at the end of the school year. The magazine will be filled with individual stories about veterans, researched and written by the fifth graders. The proceeds will all go toward the Veterans Guest House.
